Admission Requirements for the MPH with a Major in Public Health

Admission to the MPH in Public Health program is determined on a selective basis after careful review of all application materials. Applicants may be required to interview with the Kinesiology Graduate Admissions Committee so that additional information can be gathered before a final admission decision is made. Meeting the minimum standards for consideration for admission does not guarantee admission to the program, and the Kinesiology Graduate Admissions Committee reserves the right to make exceptions to admission requirements.

Unconditional Admission

- Unconditional admission is determined by the Kinesiology Graduate Admissions Committee. Applicants with at least a 3.0 undergraduate GPA and an undergraduate degree in Public Health or a related field will be given priority.

Conditional Admission

- Any applicant failing to meet the requirements for unconditional admission and who completed their undergraduate degree with a GPA of at least a 2.7 may be conditionally admitted with the recommendation of the Kinesiology Graduate Admissions Committee.

Applicants who are granted conditional admission must achieve a GPA of at least 3.00 on the first 12 graduate hours attempted. Failure to meet these conditions will result in the student being dropped from the Graduate School.

Minimum Requirements for the Master of Public Health- Generalist Concentration

An overall 3.00 GPA is required on all coursework attempted for the master's degree. Transfer credit cannot be used to raise the GPA to the required 3.00.
