

ANTHROPOLOGY MINOR

A minor in Anthropology consists of 18 hours of approved Anthropology courses.

Four basic Anthropology courses (12 credit hours) are required.

Students may choose any 6 additional credits in 300- and 400-level Anthropology elective courses. Depending on the student's particular interest, up to 3 credit hours of upper-level electives in a related discipline (such as Geography, Art History, Biology, Forensics, History, Political Science, or Sociology) may be substituted for an upper-level Anthropology elective after consultation with the student's academic advisor.
