

HISTORY (HY)

---

HY 100 Current History (1)

Prerequisite(s): Approval of department head.

Students will do research on a current events topic which they select with the approval of the instructor.

HY 101 Western Civilization I (3)

The study of western civilization from earliest times to the beginning of the modern era.

HY 102 Western Civilization II (3)

The study of western civilization from the beginning of the modern era to the present.

HY 103 Honors Western Civilization I (3)

Prerequisite(s): Honors Program member or minimum ACT composite score 25 or minimum SAT total score 1210 or permission of the instructor.

Advanced study in the history of western civilization from earliest time to the present. Includes training in the techniques of historical research, writing, and criticism.

HY 104 Honors Western Civilization II (3)

Prerequisite(s): Honors Program member or minimum ACT composite score 25 or minimum SAT total score 1210 or permission of the instructor. Advanced study in the history of western civilization from earliest time to the present. Includes training in the techniques of historical research, writing, and criticism.

(3). Advanced study in the history of western civilization from earliest time to the present. Includes training in the techniques of historical research, writing, and criticism.

HY 111 World History I (3)

This course explores history until roughly 1500 C.E. and covers topics such as: Big History, the ideological foundations of Asian Civilizations, the development of Asian empires, the peopling of the Americas, the development of European, Middle Eastern, and African empires and cultures. The course may utilize primary and secondary sources, digital humanities, and classroom discussion and collaboration.

HY 112 World History II (3)

This course will explore human history from 1500 to the present. Key topics include: Asian, African, and American encounters with Europeans; colonial projects; nation building; and the making of the modern world since 1945. The course may utilize primary and secondary sources, digital humanities, and classroom discussion and collaboration.

HY 201 American History I (3)

The study of American history from pre-colonization through the Civil War.

HY 202 American History II (3)

The study of American history from the Civil War era to the present.

HY 203 Honors American History I (3)

Prerequisite(s): Honors Program member or minimum ACT composite score 25 or minimum SAT total score 1210 or permission of the instructor.

Beginning with the European background, this course deals with the establishment of the thirteen English colonies, separation from the mother country, growth and expansion, participation in world affairs.

HY 204 Honors American History II (3)

Prerequisite(s): Honors Program member or minimum ACT composite score 25 or minimum SAT total score 1210 or permission of the instructor.

Beginning with the European background, this course deals with the establishment of the thirteen English colonies, separation from the mother country, growth and expansion, participation in world affairs.

HY 211 Survey of Latin America to 1810 (3)

The history of Latin America from pre-Colombian indigenous societies through the era of colonialism.

HY 212 Survey of Latin America since 1810 (3)

An introduction to the history of Latin America from independence to the present.

HY 300 Topics in History (3)

Prerequisite(s): an HY sequence at the 100- or 200-level, or by permission of the instructor.

An examination of special topics in History. This course will explore topics related to the history of the United States or the World. May be repeated for credit for a total of 9 semester hours as long as each course is on a different topic.

HY 301 History of England to 1689 (3)

Prerequisite(s): a HY sequence at the 100- or 200-level, or by permission of the instructor.

The origins of the English people and nation, its early legal and constitutional development, the struggle between king and parliament, and the beginning of overseas expansion down to the Glorious Revolution. Recommended especially for pre-law students.

HY 302 History of Great Britain, 1689 to the Present (3)

Prerequisite(s): a HY sequence at the 100- or 200-level, or by permission of the instructor.

A continuation of History 301. The consolidation to the constitutional evolution; the agricultural, social, industrial, and political revolutions of the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries, the merging of Great Britain into the Commonwealth of Nations.

HY 303 Historian's Craft (WI) (3)

Prerequisite(s): History majors only; a HY sequence at the 100- or 200-level, or by permission of the instructor.

Historical research methods and historiography. This course will introduce history majors to methods and tools used in historical research as a means of preparing them for their 300-400 level history courses. The class will serve as a bridge between the freshman History experience and the major's immersion into the discipline of History. (Writing Intensive Course)

HY 304 American Military History (3)

Prerequisite(s): a HY sequence at the 100- or 200-level, or by permission of the instructor.

The evolution of warfare and the military in America's past.

HY 307 Reefer Madness: Cannabis in Politics, History, and American Culture (3)

This course is to enable students to understand and analyze the role cannabis has played in history and American politics and culture.

HY 310 Reacting to the Past (3)

Through participation in Reacting to the Past (RTTP) games, students will take on roles of historical figures who engage in difficult and complicated situations, allowing them to participate in great historical debates. Topics will vary each time the course is taught. Course may be repeated for a total of six (6) semester hours.

HY 314 Constitutional History (3)

Prerequisite(s): An HY sequence at the 100- or 200-level, or by permission of the instructor.

This course is primarily focused on the history surrounding the U.S. Constitution, with emphasis on doctrinal development and practical application.

HY 315 History of the US Presidency (3)

This course will examine the biographies of the President; the issues, crises, and historical impact that has shaped this office; and how that office in turn has shaped world history.

HY 322 Technology and Society (3)

This course will consider the interaction between technology and society from ancient times to the present with the bulk of the course focusing on the 20th century. We will examine the political, military, economic, and social implications of technological developments. Themes that will shape our analysis through the term include the question of technological determinism, the relationship between technology and the state, and the idea of "technological progress."

HY 330 History of Islam (3)

Prerequisite(s): a HY sequence at the 100- or 200-level, or by permission of the instructor.

A historical and thematic introduction to Islamic history, especially its political, institutional, religious, social and cultural forms.

HY 331 The Far East in Modern Times (3)

Prerequisite(s): a HY sequence at the 100- or 200-level, or by permission of the instructor.

A survey of Far Eastern history with special emphasis upon China, Japan, and the impact of western influence in Modern Times.

HY 332 Russian History through the Revolutions of 1917 (3)

Prerequisite(s): a HY sequence at the 100- or 200-level, or by permission of the instructor.

The political, social, and intellectual developments of Russia from the early migrations and consolidation of Muscovy through the fall of the House of Romanov.

HY 333 Russian History from 1855 to the Present (3)

Prerequisite(s): a HY sequence at the 100- or 200-level, or by permission of the instructor.

Survey of the history of Russia focusing on the rise of radical activity that led to the Revolution of 1917, the creation, evolution and collapse of the Soviet Union and Russia after communism.

HY 365 History of Video Games (3)

Prerequisite(s): Sophomore status or approval of the instructor.

A history of video games from early computer technologies to mobile applications.

HY 395 Europe in the Middle Ages 476-1300 (3)

Prerequisite(s): a HY sequence at the 100- or 200-level, or by permission of the instructor.

Major political, intellectual, and cultural trends, with emphasis on ecclesiastical developments and the fathers of the church.

HY 399 Study Tour (3)

Topics, excursions, and requirements determined by department. May be duplicated for credit; however, only three (3) credits may be applied toward any major or minor. Advance deposit required. Infrequently scheduled and subject to minimum and maximum numbers.

HY 400 Europe in the High Middle Ages: Renaissance and Reformation, 1300-1648 (3)

Prerequisite(s): A HY sequence at the 100- or 200-level, or by permission of the instructor.

European society as seen through its philosophy, religion, literature, and politics.

HY 401 Ancient Greece (3)

Prerequisite(s): A HY sequence at the 100- or 200-level, or by permission of the instructor.

This course focuses on the history of ancient Greece, beginning with the prehistoric Mycenaean civilization, and ending with the death of Alexander the Great. Special attention will be given to the Classical Period, dominated by the Peloponnesian War between Athens and Sparta.

HY 403 Ancient Rome (3)

Prerequisite(s): A HY sequence at the 100- or 200-level, or by permission of the instructor.

This course surveys the history of Rome from its founding to its fall, beginning with the first settlements in what would later be the city center of Rome ca. 1000 BCE, and ending with the collapse of the Empire in the West in 476 CE.

HY 404 The Age of the Cold War: Europe, 1945-Present (3)

Prerequisite(s): a HY sequence at the 100- or 200-level, or by permission of the instructor.

The Cold War and its impact on the internal reorganization of the European nations.

HY 406 Internship in Museum Studies (3)

Prerequisite(s): Approval of instructor.

Working with local historical museums under the supervision of faculty, students will be introduced to the problems and possibilities of museum curatorship. This course may be duplicated for credit for a total of six (6) semester hours.

HY 407 Warfare in the Ancient World (3)

Prerequisite(s): A HY sequence at the 100- or 200-level, or by permission of the instructor.

This course examines warfare and the military history of the ancient world, including but not limited to Greece, Macedonia, the Roman Republic, and the Roman Empire.

HY 408 Ancient History (3)

Prerequisite(s): a HY sequence at the 100- or 200-level, or by permission of the instructor.

A survey of civilization in the Near East and Europe from the invention of writing to the fall of the Roman Empire.

HY 409 Modern France (3)

Prerequisite(s): a HY sequence at the 100- or 200-level, or by permission of the instructor.

A survey of the development of the French nation-state from Louis XIV to the present.

HY 410 Modern Germany (3)

Prerequisite(s): a HY sequence at the 100- or 200-level, or by permission of the instructor.

A survey of the development of Germany from the Peace of Westphalia to the collapse of the Third Reich.

HY 411 War and Peace in Modern Europe (3)

Prerequisite(s): A HY sequence at the 100- or 200-level, or by permission of the instructor.

A survey of the military and diplomatic history of Europe from the Peace of Westphalia to the end of the Second World War.

HY 412 War and Memory (3)

Prerequisite(s): A HY sequence at the 100- or 200-level, or by permission of the instructor.

An exploration of war, human conflict, and organized violence, and how nations, communities, and individuals remember and memorialize them with an emphasis on the public history aspects.

HY 420 Modern China (3)

Prerequisite(s): A HY sequence at the 100- or 200-level, or by permission of the instructor.

This course will explore historical themes in modern China from the last decades of the Qing Dynasty through the present, including a study of the challenging political and social atmospheres.

HY 421 Public History (3)

Prerequisite(s): 3 hours of HY or permission of instructor.

This course examines the work of public history, including but not limited to, archival management, museum exhibition production, historic preservation, cultural resources management, historical interpretation, and the role of the public intellectual.

HY 422 Oral History (3)

Prerequisite(s): 3 hours of HY or permission of instructor.

This course will introduce students to the methods and theory of oral history. The course includes the preparation of oral history projects and evaluation of oral narratives.

HY 423 Historical Bollywood (3)

Prerequisite(s): A HY sequence at the 100- or 200-level, or by permission of the instructor.

This class will explore the ways in which significant historical events are commemorated in Indian cinema. Several key points in nation's history will be studied by conventional methods and subsequently re-studied through watching Bollywood productions.

HY 424 Byzantine Empire (3)

Prerequisite(s): A HY sequence at the 100- or 200-level, or by permission of the instructor.

This course will trace the main events of Byzantine history (330 –1453) chronologically and will discuss a number of specific topics such as the political organization of Byzantium, international relations, society, economy, and culture.

HY 433 American Social and Cultural History to 1865 (3)

Prerequisite(s): A HY sequence at the 100- or 200-level, or by permission of the instructor.

American society through its literature, religion, philosophy, and arts. Emphasis upon immigration strains, European cultural transfer, and environmental adaptations which have formed the American character. Wide opportunities for reading offered in religion, philosophy, literature, and the arts.

HY 434 American Social and Cultural History Since 1865 (3)

Prerequisite(s): A HY sequence at the 100- or 200-level, or by permission of the instructor.

This course will evaluate shifting immigration origins. Concentrated study will be given to the changing thought patterns which have resulted from Darwinism, the rise of Big Business, theories of the public interest, Pragmatism, and the emergence of the United States as a world power.

HY 436 History of American Women (3)

Prerequisite(s): A HY sequence at the 100- or 200-level, or by permission of the instructor.

A survey of the history of women from the colonial period to the present with emphasis upon social, economic, political, and educational developments.

HY 437 Black America (3)

Prerequisite(s): A HY sequence at the 100- or 200-level, or by permission of the instructor.

Blacks in the U.S. from colonial times to the present; events of the twentieth-century and the integral social relations between blacks and whites will be emphasized.

HY 441 The South Before 1865 (3)

Prerequisite(s): A HY sequence at the 100- or 200-level, or by permission of the instructor.

Pre-colonial civilization through the Civil War. The colonization and the economic, political, social, and cultural development of the Old South and its part in building the nation.

HY 442 The South Since 1860 (3)

Prerequisite(s): A HY sequence at the 100- or 200-level, or by permission of the instructor.

The issues which led to secession; the War Between the States; the economic, political, and social results; recent tendencies and developments.

HY 443 Introduction to Southern Culture (3)

Prerequisite(s): A HY sequence at the 100- or 200-level, or by permission of the instructor.

The study of the historic roots of regional culture that will integrate topics such as the "Cult of the Lost Cause," religion, folk life, music, literature, and the transition from a rural/agricultural society to an urban/commercial/industrial one.

HY 444 History of Alabama (3)

Prerequisites for Undergraduate: HY 201 and 202. Prerequisites for Graduate: none. Alabama from the era of settlement to the present.

HY 446 American Indian History to 1840 (3)

Prerequisite(s): A HY sequence at the 100- or 200-level, or by permission of the instructor.

This course is a survey of Native American history in what becomes the United States from the pre-colonial period through 1840. Particular attention will be paid to regional cultures, the impact of European contact, Native-US government relations, and the consequences of removal.

HY 447 American Indian History 1840-Present (3)

Prerequisite(s): A HY sequence at the 100- or 200-level, or by permission of the instructor.

This course is a survey of Native American history in what becomes the United States from 1840 through the present day. Particular attention will be paid to Native-US government relations, the impact of the reservation and assimilation programs, and modern rights issues.

HY 448 History of the American West (3)

Prerequisite(s): A HY sequence at the 100- or 200-level, or by permission of the instructor.

Significance of the frontier in American History; colonization of successive geographic areas; the West in indigenous peoples and ethnic minorities, public lands; and crisis resulting from expansion.

HY 451 History of Early America to 1783 (3)

Prerequisite(s): A HY sequence at the 100- or 200-level, or by permission of the instructor.

European background to exploration; exploration and settlement; the Inter-Colonial Wars; the political, social, economic, and cultural developments within the colonies.

HY 452 The Age of Jefferson and Jackson, 1783 to 1850 (3)

Prerequisite(s): A HY sequence at the 100- or 200-level, or by permission of the instructor.

The development of the American Republic from the end of the American Revolution until the Compromise of 1850, with special emphasis on the influence that Jefferson and Jackson had on the evolution of democratic attitudes and institutions.

HY 453 Sectional Conflict, Civil War, and Reconstruction, 1850-1877 (3)

Prerequisite(s): a HY sequence at the 100- or 200-level, or by permission of the instructor.

The rise of opposition to slavery; the Decade of Crises; Civil War; political, social, economic, diplomatic, and military aspects of the conduct of the war. An examination of the various interpretations, regional and national, of the Reconstruction Period.

HY 454 The Beginning of Modern America, 1877-1914 (3)

Prerequisite(s): A HY sequence at the 100- or 200-level, or by permission of the instructor.

Description and evaluation of the shift of the United States from an agrarian to an industrial nation; the heritage of Civil War and Reconstruction; the rise of the Great Moguls; mass production and technological change; the rise of labor union movements and organized farm protests; the Spanish-American War; and American involvement in World War I.

HY 455 The 1920's and the Great Depression (3)

Prerequisite(s): A HY sequence at the 100- or 200-level, or by permission of the instructor.

A detailed study of American political, diplomatic, and cultural history from President Woodrow Wilson through Franklin D. Roosevelt.

HY 456 Contemporary America, 1945-Present (3)

Prerequisite(s): A HY sequence at the 100- or 200-level, or by permission of the instructor.

A detailed study of American political, diplomatic, and cultural history since the end of the World War II. Part of this course will be devoted to the study of current events.

HY 457 Race, Community, and Memory (3)

Prerequisite(s): A HY sequence at the 100- or 200-level, or by permission of the instructor.

Students will explore how race has been used as a concept to both remember and erase history in a broader historical context.

HY 459 The American Civil War in Film (3)

Prerequisite(s): HY 201 or permission of instructor.

This course will explore how the Civil War has been remembered by Hollywood, how it can differ from the historical record, and how films often reflect the social and political sensibilities of their respective time period.

HY 465 The British Empire and Commonwealth (3)

Prerequisite(s): A HY sequence at the 100- or 200-level, or by permission of the instructor.

Growth and development of the British Empire, with emphasis on the factors leading to the Commonwealth of Nations.

HY 468 Constitutional History of England (3)

Prerequisite(s): A HY sequence at the 100- or 200-level, or by permission of the instructor.

Growth of common law, the court system, and the cabinet form of government from the earliest times to the present.

HY 473 Modern Middle East (3)

Prerequisite(s): a HY sequence at the 100- or 200-level, or by permission of the instructor.

This course centers around Israel's struggle for national independence and the tension this has produced in the Middle East.

HY 475 Modern Japan (3)

Prerequisite(s): A HY sequence at the 100- or 200-level, or by permission of the instructor.

This course will explore modern Japanese history from Commodore Perry's arrival in 1853 to the 2011 crisis of earthquake, tsunami, and nuclear disaster, from both a political and social perspective.

HY 477 Asian American History (3)

Prerequisite(s): A HY sequence at the 100- or 200-level, or by permission of the instructor.

This course explores the experiences of Asian Americans from the mid-nineteenth century to the present. It examines the rich diversity of the Asian American community and considers how events within the U.S. and outside of it have shaped the lives of their community.

HY 478 East Asian History (3)

Prerequisite(s): a HY sequence at the 100- or 200-level, or by permission of the instructor.

A comprehensive exploration of East Asian history, tracing the region's evolution from prehistory to the complexities of the present day.

HY 479 Revolution and Radical Politics in Latin America (3)

Prerequisite(s): Sophomore standing or approval of instructor.

This course examines the causes, consequences, and legacies of revolutions and radical socio-political movements in twentieth-century Latin America.

HY 483 United States-Latin American Relations (3)

Prerequisite(s): Sophomore standing or above or with permission of instructor.

A survey of the diplomatic, economic, and cultural relations between the United States and the Latin American Republics from 1810 to the present.

HY 485 History of Mexico (3)

Prerequisite(s): Sophomore standing or above or with permission of the instructor.

A study of Mexico's past including pre-Columbian civilizations, the Spanish Conquest and Colonial period, the independence movement and the early republic, the struggle for nationhood, the modernization of Mexico with a special emphasis on the Mexican Revolution and the forces that shaped present day Mexico.

HY 487 History of Brazil (3)

Prerequisite(s): Sophomore standing or above or with permission of the instructor.

A survey of Brazil's history from 1500 until the present with an emphasis on the Empire of Brazil 1822-1889 and modern Brazil, 1889 to present.

HY 488 Revolution and Resistance in Modern Mexico (3)

Prerequisite(s): Sophomore standing or instructor approval.

This course explores Mexican history from the early 20th century to the present. We will examine the Revolution of 1910, its transformation, and the contemporary legacies it has bequeathed.

HY 490 History of Religions (3)

An introduction to the theory of Religious History and the study of the history and practices of the five dominant world religions using resources from within those traditions.

HY 493 History of Christianity I (3)

Prerequisite(s): a HY sequence at the 100- or 200-level, or by permission of the instructor.

A historical and thematic introduction to Christian history from its roots in the ancient near east; its foundation and growth; its distinctive Latin, Greek, and Syriac branches; and its development into the medieval period.

HY 494 History of Christianity II (3)

Prerequisite(s): a HY sequence at the 100- or 200-level, or by permission of the instructor.

This course will detail the schism and splits in Christianity over the last millennium. Special attention on the Protestant Reformation and her engagement of Christianity with modernity.

HY 499 Capstone Experience (WI) (0)

Prerequisite(s): History majors with senior status and permission of Department Head.

Capstone experience for history majors. (Writing Intensive Course)